BECKER SAID HE'D CROAK ROSENTHAL

Maurice Luban Testifies in Gotham's Sensational Murder Case

WITNESS JUST DISCOVERED

Identifies "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" as Two of Actual Murderers—Submits to Lengthy Cross-examination.

New York, Oct. 11.—First testimony implicating Charles Becker in the murder of Herman Rosenthal was given at today's session of the trial of the former police officer, accused of instigating the murder of the gambler. It was testified by Maurise Luban, a hang-on of the underworld, that Becker had said to Jack Rose about three weeks before the murder, "If that ... Rosenthal is not croaked I will croak him myself."

Luban, who also was an eye witness of the murder, identified in court today "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" as two of the men who fired the shots that killed Rosenthal, and William Shapiro as driver of the murder car.

"Gyp" and "Lefty" he had known for more than a year, he said and he also swore that "Dago" Frank, likewise an acquaintance, was in the group when the shots were fired. He knew Rosenthal and had seen Becker. He proved to be such a strong witness for the State that John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the defendant, spent two hours and a half trying to break down his testimony.

Luban was only discovered by District Attorney Whitman a day or two ago. He was found with his brother Jacob, held in jail in Newark on a forgery charge. The brothers claimed to have been "framed up" by somebody. The New York prosecutor procured their release on parole and, according to Maurice, the witness promised "to help them in every way if they would prove their frame up."

On the stand Luban said he heard Becker utter his alleged death threat against Rosenthal in the steam room of the LaFayette baths, and that he stood within two or three feet of the police officer at the time. He did not know Becker well, he conceded but had seen him in a gambling house on Allen street.

"How did you know it was Becker, you saw in this gambling house?" asked Mr. McIntyre.

"Because I asked. I thought it was strange that a man of his appearance should be in such a place," rejoined the witness.

He added that Becker was talking at the time with "Denny Sly Fox", an underworld character who is expected to be a witness in the trial.

Luban's identification of the gunmen was made without hesitation. When they were brought in for his inspection it was their third appearance in the court room during the day. Vionanni Stanisch, another witness had identified "Whitey" Lewis and they had been lined up also before Thomas Ryan, a chauffeur who declined, in a frightened manner, to identify any of them, although he, too, had seen them.

The gunmen on their third appearance made a protest. "We don't object to being identified, but we think we ought to have a chance like everybody else to be lined up with more men," said "Lefty Louie". "We want this thing cleared up, but we want a square deal."

The testimony of Luban to show shooting was done closely corroborated stories told by other witnesses. He said he had gone to the Metropole with a woman he knew only as Annie, who also had seen the shooting.

Mr. McIntyre dwelt long upon the fact that Luban had been in jail on a forgery charge and in other ways attacked the character of the witness.

"Isn't it a fact," shouted the attorney, "that you and your brother offered to come over here and testify for Becker if he would get you out on bail."

"I did not, I don't know about my brother," said the witness.

Although the lawyer produced letters purporting to have been written to him by the brothers, the witness stoutly denied he had made any such overtures. He had seen Jack Rose in the district attorney's office yesterday, he said, and Rose had told him

RAH FOR WILMINGTON!

(Mt. Olive Tribune.)

"Hurrah! for Wilmington! The people of that grand old town have a campaign on to raise ten thousand dollars for the Wilson campaign fund, and it will be accomplished. One-third of this amount has already been raised. Governor Wilson, our next President, is an old Wilmingtonian, having lived there when his sainted father was pastor of the Presbyterian church, and it is peculiarly fitting that Wilmington should contribute this magnificent sum towards his election to the Presidency."

TRACE MOVEMENTS OF LABOR LEADERS

Government Seeks to Connect Them With Explosions in the West

M'NAMARA'S ALIAS IMPORTANT

Several Witnesses Testify as to the Movements of "Brice" and Connect Schmitt, Caplan and Tveitmoe With Them.

Indianapolis, Oct. 11.—"J. B. Brice, Chicago," the name James B. McNamara used to disguise his intention to cause explosions on the Pacific coast and particularly in Los Angeles, formed an important point in the testimony at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

As tending to sustain its contention that the explosions were part of a conspiracy for the illegal inter-State shipment of dynamite involving the 45 men now on trial, the government indicated that it would go thoroughly into the explosions in the West, possibly throwing light on the mysterious disappearance of F. A. Schmitt, and David Caplan, accused as accomplices of McNamara.

Witnesses reading from hotel registers, testified concerning the movements of McNamara, Schmitt, Caplin and Tveitmoe, of San Francisco.

From the time he arrived in San Francisco August 19, 1910, until he left Los Angeles, a few hours before the Los Angeles Times explosion McNamara's whereabouts, with the exception of a few nights, were accounted for by the name "Brice" written on registers.

George A. Dickson, assistant manager of a San Francisco hotel, produced records of "Brice's" arrival there August 19th, the day before an explosion at Oakland. He was traced to Seattle, Wash., where he sought from J. D. Wagner, teacher in a technical school, information how to create a spark without the use of a fulminating cap. Eugene A. Clancy, another labor leader in San Francisco, was in Seattle at that time the government asserts The next day an office building under construction in Seattle, Wash. was blown up.

Reading from a hotel register, Mr. Dixon told of Brice's reappearance in San Francisco September 14th, after he had lived for 10 days in a boarding house. Soon after, Mr. Dixon testified, "Brice" appeared with "Perry", alias of Schmitt. They occupied the same room.

Caplan then appeared on the scene and the house in San Francisco on 1659 Avenue 19, where later a "quantity of nitro-glycerine was found, was rented.

Walter L. Smith, a clerk in a Los Angeles hotel, identified the signature of A. T. Tveitmoe as that of a guest who was in Los Angeles before "Brice" arrived the last time.

C. A. Dickelman, clerk in another hotel at Los Angeles said he had a conversation with "Brice" who registered there September 29th. That was about the second day before the Los Angeles explosion.

"The next night," testified Dickelman, "Brice told me he was going to

"Smokey's" Dazzling Speed Proves too Much for New York Giants and Red Sox Take Fourth Game of World's Series—"Heine" Wagner Stars—Boston Fields Superbly—Fifth Game Today.

New York, Oct. 11.—The Bostons, pennant winners of the American League, were victorious today over the New York National League team by a score of 3 to 1 in the fourth game of the world's series. The Red Sox have now won two games and the Giants one game, the second contest having ended in a tie.

Some 36,000 people jammed in the stadium today, saw a thrilling contest. The two teams played in their true form and the nervousness shown in earlier contests was not observed.

"Smokey Joe" Wood shone today. The Bostonians fairly hugged their star boxman as he walked out of the playing field with his second victory over the New York club dangling from his belt. Gray sodden clouds screened the sun and in the murky atmosphere Wood's speed ball worked havoc with the Giants' batting. Only once was a Giant batter able to gauge the Boston man's curve for a hit when a hit meant a run. The infield was wet from a night's rain and Wood stood on the hurling mound for nine innings with pile of sawdust beside him to dry the ball before each delivery to the plate. His pitching was without blemish or flaw, not a man being passed, while eight Giants walked to the plate and then walked back again after vainly trying to read the riddle of the Boston boxman's mystifying drop balls and fast in-shoots. "How can we hit what we can't see?" asked "Red" Murray, when he walked to the bench after fanning for the second time.

Wood was in trouble in only two innings, in the sixth and again in the seventh, when the home club's only run came over the plate. The sixth showed Wood at his best. Tesreau jabbed a hit to left and Devore bounded a drive off Wood's ankle for a base before any one was out. The stands went wild with excitement and tried to rattle the Boston pitcher, but Wood was cool. He caused Larry Doyle to pop out and then fed Snodgrass and Murray on quick-breaking down shoots, making those Giant batters send weak rollers to the Red Sox infield.

Boston broke into the run column in the second, when Gardner tripled and scored on Tesreau's wild heave of a spit ball. The second run came in the fourth, when Stahl reached first on a scratch hit, stole second, went to third on an infield out and came home on Cady's drive. Boston made its third run in the ninth. Gardner singled, was sacrificed to second by Stahl, to third on an infield out and tallied on Wood's single.

The Giants' only run was scored in the seventh by Herzog on his own single to center and Fletcher's two bagger to rightfield. A New York boy broke the hearts of the Giant partisans. He is Heine Wagner, the Red Sox short stop, whose plays today robbed the Giants of three hits. Two of his stops of smashes over second were made with one hand on the dead run. Then half turning, he snapped his throws to first base ahead of the runners by a step.

With one run needed to tie in the eighth, Devore slashed a grounder past Wood. Thousands cheered as the ball sped by second base, for a hit meant a good start for a final rally. Wagner raced over the bag, scooped the ball with his gloved hand and snapped the ball to first without recovering his balance. The fleet Devore was out by inches.

Yerkes and Fletcher also starred in fielding plays, while Murray robbed Hooper of a three-base hit at the beginning of the fight. Running back to the concrete wall, the Giant fielder leaped into the air and clutched the ball with one hand.

Tesreau did not get into his pitching stride until the Red Sox had made two runs. After that he tightened up and in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings turned the Bostons back in one, two, three order. The moist ball flinger was take out only to allow a pinch hitter to bat for him.

There were 13 strikeouts during the game. For Boston Cady struck out twice and Lewis, Stahl and Wagner once each. On the New York side, Murray and Merkle were fanned twice and Devore, Snodgrass, Meyers and Tesreau went out once each by the strike out route.

With today's game the players cease to share in the world's series receipts. The four games played netted them $147,572.28, breaking the record established by the New York and Philadelphia clubs last year, when the players' share amounted to $127,910.61.

The winning players this year will receive $88,543.37 and the losers $59,028.90. Individually each of the winners is due to receive approximately $4,000 and the losers about $2,800.

The National Commission's figures for attendance and receipts at today's game were:

Paid attendance, 36,502. Total receipts, $76,644. National Commission's share, $7,664.40. Players' share $41,387.76. Each club's share, $13,795.92.

New York, Oct. 11.—There were no preliminaries to the game here today and Umpire Rigler called "play ball" one minute after the scheduled hour, 2 o'clock. The air was heavy with moisture and the playing field was sodden from the rain last night.

The first score of the game was made by Boston in the second. Gardner hit the fence in right center field and stopped at third base amid the wild cheering of the Red Sox rooters. Stahl tried for a sacrifice fly, but was saved the trouble as Tesreau let loose a wild pitch that struck near the plate and bounded past Meyers, and Gardner came home with Boston's first run. Stahl sent up a high fly to Doyle and Wagner put up one that Snodgrass got in left center. Cady struck out.

Boston scored again in the fourth. Gardner was passed. Stahl forced him at second, Tesreau to Fletcher, trying to bunt. Stahl stole second, Meyers' throw being far to one side of the bag. Wagner went out to Merkle unassisted, and Stahl took second. Catcher Cady then shot a hot drive to Fletch-

GOVERNOR RENEWS ATTACK ON TEDDY

Wilson Calls Attention to Significance of Perkins' Backing

GETS OVATION AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., Oct. 11.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, in discussing today his argument that "the thought of the leading men of the United States Steel Corporation is behind the third party programme, with regard to the regulation of trusts," drew attention to what he termed "a very significant fact" that George W. Perkins "is himself back of the programme. The Democratic nominee recalled the fact that Mr. Perkins had once disclosed in investigations before Congress his "whole thought" about establishing industrial commissions to regulate monopoly.

"The Governor spoke at Canton, the home of McKinley, and in Cleveland. Besides the attack in his speech on the trust plank of the Progressive party, he paid tribute to the memory of President McKinley, declaring that just before he died, he showed "symptoms of adjustment to the new age such as his successor has not exhibited" and foresaw the necessity of elasticity in the tariff and reciprocal trade relations with the world."

"The regular Republicans say they are opposed to monopoly," said the Governor at Canton, "but when they come to speak of the methods of restraining it, they chiefly indulge in a narrative of what they have already done, which we know to have been ineffectual and when the third party takes up this side of the difficulty what do they do? They propose to leave things as they are and subject them to supervision of an industrial commission and we know what that industrial commission is expected to do.

"It is a very significant fact that Mr. George W. Perkins is himself back of this programme, not because it would intimate any corrupt or improper influences, for it would not. Mr. Perkins has just as much right to his opinion as I have, but Mr. Perkins has displayed his whole thought in investigations before Congress and on one occasion, for example, in testifying before the committee of the Senate he said there ought to be an industrial commission before whom gentlemen desiring to combine should lay their plans and if there were accepted should exempt them from the operations of the clause of the Sherman Act forbidding combinations in restraint of trade.

"In other words, he wants a commission which will permit under regulations the process of combinations and monopoly, and therefore, I take it for granted that that is what is in the third party's thought and in its programme because I am not interested where Mr. Roosevelt's money comes from, but where his ideas come from, and I see multiplying signs that his ideas come from those who set up monopoly and who naturally wish to maintain it. I am no more in favor of a gentlemanly monopoly than one that is rude and impolite."

The Governor, brought forth in the same speech his ideas on regulating competition.

"You will say, 'will you set up competition by statute?' I am not as innocent as I look," said the nominee. "I am not maintaining that you can command men to compete but I do say that you can remove the now insuperable impediments to competition. No body of men who control 75 per cent. of the iron mines of the country ought to be allowed to discriminate in the prices at which they sell their iron, as between those who are in the combine and those who are not; because we cannot allow the raw materials and mineral resources of this country to be monopolized and privately controlled. No combination of men ought to discriminate between retail dealers. I have, therefore promised myself to do everything in my power whether elected to office or not, to expose the monopoly of enterprise in the United States."

The Republican theory of govern-

GREAT WORK

By comparison of yesterday's figures you will see the great work that New Hanover county is doing for the Wilson-Marshall Campaign Fund. To reach our $10,000 goal we need:

17	to contribute	50.00
33	to contribute	25.00

FIVE THOUSAND IS THE COVETED GOAL

This Amount Should Be in Hand from Wilmington By Tonight

ACTIVE, PERSISTENT WORK

It Will Turn the Trick—Teams Exhorted to Greater Effort—Wilmington Attracting Outside Attention—Today!

Five Thousand Dollars for the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund by this evening!

That is the goal to which the Committee of One Hundred is bending every effort and its accomplishment depends entirely upon the individual effort of each member of the committee TODAY.

Eight of the ten teams now enlisted in the canvass turned in nearly $500 cash as the result of yesterday's effort and with all ten teams working and working earnestly, persistently today, the goal will be reached.

If each of the ten teams will turn in just even a little less than $50 today, the sum will be in hand and the experience of half a dozen of the committees yesterday demonstrates beyond the shadow of a doubt that only the little effort is required. One team yesterday in three hours trebled that amount and another more than doubled it. Several more than exceeded it. Two teams were not heard from at all, but they will be on the war path today.

It was the experience of the canvassers yesterday that the people were only awaiting for some one to call. That wish should be gratified today. Each team is assigned to a definite work, and that work should be done today, if Wilmington is to justify the attention that it is attracting all over the State and in other States, too, for that matter.

If Wilmington could contribute $7,500 for the entertainment of a Republican President for one day only, she will certainly contribute $10,000 for the election of a Democratic President for four years. She is coming along nicely, but the goal is still a long way off and there must be many and liberal contributions. It is an opportunity for bringing Wilmington to the attention of the world that she could achieve in no other way. She wants and must have the proud distinction of contributing the largest sum of any city in her class for the election of a President who spent his boyhood days here. This is no time to divide upon the proprieties. All loyal Wilmingtonians must be united in this effort to achieve a distinction that will be worth many times the $10,000 to the city to say nothing of the merits of the cause.

Among the contributors to the fund yesterday was $10 by Sam Lee, the Chinese laundryman. If Sam Lee can contribute $10 to the salvation of his country what can the rest of us do? The question is personal. Sam Lee has set an example that might well be followed by many of the city's more progressive citizens. Ask yourself the question: "If Sam Lee can give $10, what should I give?" Then see any friend you may have on the committee, or if you can't do better, send it to the Star office and it will be credited to any committee you may name.

County and city officials were waited on yesterday and many of them responded liberally in the main. Others are yet to be seen. Those who are running mates of Wilson this time, so to speak, should be exceedingly generous in this good Democratic year.

Woodrow Wilson has refused emphatically to accept contributions to his campaign fund from the interests, from corrupting influences, from any questionable sources.

He has given us, the Democratic National Committee to understand that he will go into the White House with clean hands or not at all.

He came of illustrious forefathers, who laid by blood and heredity the foundation of a future President through generation after generation of upright record.

If Wilson is to be elected it must be by clean money and there is only one source of such money—from the voters of the country who realize the importance of having a government uninfluenced by the almighty dollar.

Wilson's hands are clean.

Will you uphold them?

New York's only score came in the seventh. Merkle struck out. Herzog drove one past Wagner that "Henie" could not reach. It was a single. Meyers put a high one to Speaker. Fletcher smashed a two-base hit to right field, scoring Herzog with New York's only run. McCormick, batting for Tesreau, sent a slow bounder to Yerkes and in attempting to score on the hit Fletcher was thrown out, Yerkes to Cady, ending the inning.

The Red Sox scored another run in the ninth inning. Gardner got in his second hit, a single to center field and went to second on Stahl's sacrifice, Ames to Merkle. Wagner received a base on balls and a moment later was forced at second by Cady, Fletcher to Doyle, Gardner taking third. Wood drove a single to right and Gardner scored, Cady going to third. Hooper flied out to Snodgrass.

Fair Weather for Today's Game

Boston, Mass., October 11.—Promise of fair weather for tomorrow's fifth game between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Giants in the world series was held out tonight by official Forecaster Smith. Showers during the day and early evening made the outlook for tomorrow's game dismal, but when the weather man had looked over the late telegraphic reports on weather conditions he said that while rain was headed east it might be delayed until Saturday or Sunday. He predicted fair weather for tomorrow.

NO TRACE OF ROBBERS

Highwaymen Who Held Up K. C. Train Make Getaway

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 11.—No trace of the four men who attempted to rob northbound Kansas City passenger train No. 2 near Mena, Ark., early today, had been found late tonight. The attempt was the third within a week along the Oklahoma-Arkansas border. Express Messenger Burrell whose pluck and wit prevented the robbery, was resting easy tonight. In an effort to force the messenger to disclose where the valauable packages were concealed, the robbers flogged and kicked him, but in vain.

The attempt to rob the train today was made between Hatfield and Mena, Ark. While the bandits were effecting an entrance to the car the express messenger concealed the valuable packages. A fusilade of shots was exchanged, but Burgett was not wounded. One of the bandits was wounded. A statement from Mena today to the effect that the robber was captured was contradicted tonight.

When the messenger's ammunition was exhausted he was overpowered by the robbers, but refused to aid them in their search for valuables. In the midst of their search the bandits were frightened away by Conductor Lockwood. Burgett was rushed to Mena for medical attention. A posse was immediately organized to pursue the bandits.

While the robbery was being attempted a sheriff's posse pursuing men who robbed a Kansas City Southern train last week were following what proved to be a false trail. A man giving the name of Reynolds and claiming to be a member of the band, escaped from the posse after following them to a place where he had to be identified.

Augusta Federation of Trade Endorses Unions' Action

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 11.—At a meeting of the Federation of Trades tonight the action of the carpenters, painters and others in going out on sympathetic strike today was endorsed. No general strike order was issued as had been feared, but it was announced a vote of the 17 affiliated locals is being taken.

Leading business men in conference with labor leaders tonight agreed on a plan whereby an arbitration board of five members will be named tomorrow to attempt to settle the entire strike situation.

BASEBALL MATINEE THIS P. M.

Game in Detail Over Direct Wire at Airdome This Afternoon.

Messrs. Horace Emerson and Hugh Hines have arranged with the Western Union Telegraph Company for a direct wire from the ball grounds at Boston, where the fourth game in the World's Championship series will be played this afternoon and will receive the game in detail, play by play, and announce the plays by megaphone. The Airdome has been secured for the matinee and plenty of seats will be provided for every one.

The game this afternoon will in all probability be presided over by Christy Mathewson and Ray Collins, and will doubtless be of more interest than any of the previous contests for world supremacy. Matty will endeavor to regain prestige lost in the game of Wednesday and Collins will be on hand to take another game for the Bean Eaters. An admission charge of 25 cents will be made for the matinee this afternon and doubtless a large crowd will take advantage of this opportunity to get the returns from the game with all the conveniences that will be offered.

PLAY A SECOND TIE.

Cubs and White Sox Battle for 12 Innings—Score 3 to 3.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—With the score tied 3 to 3, the second game of the series between the Chicago American and National clubs was called today in the 12th inning because of darkness. The game was the second tie of the series, the opening contest Tuesday ending without a score.

Lord and Weaver collided at full speed in centerfield in the eighth inning, when each was trying for Miller's hit. They were knocked unconscious and both had to be carried from the field. Lord quickly recovered, but Weaver was in a dazed condition for several hours.

Uhlan and Lewis Forest Lower Time for Mile.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Uhlan and Lewis Forest, both owned by C. K. G. Billings, clipped four and one-half seconds off the mile record for a pair of trotters to a pole here today when they made the distance in 2:03 1-4. Uhlan holds a record of 1:58.

Another sensation was furnished when Hester G., a yearling filly by Silent Brook, established a world's trotting record of 2:21 3-4 for fillies her age. Margaret Parrish also reduced by one-quarter of a second the season's record of 2:06 1-2 (her own) for four-year-old trotting mares.

Anna Axme, by Askmenot, after four heats won the pacing division of the Kentucky futurity for three-year-old pacers.

ATHLETICS WIN SERIES.

Make It Four Out of Five Games From the Phillies.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—The Philadelphia American League baseball team won the local championship here today by defeating the Philadelphia Nationals in the fifth game of the interleague series by the score of 5 to 2. The American League team took four of the five games played.

Carroll Brown pitched for the former world's champions. Rixey, who started for the Nationals, was replaced by Chalmers in the fifth.

T. R. DEFENDS TRUST RECORD.

And Makes Attack on Wilson's Position at Oshkosh, Wis.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 11.—A defense of his own record of the tariff question and an attack on Governor Wilson's position were made in a speech here tonight by Col. Roosevelt. Governor Wilson, he said, had been the hope of the progressives, but had changed his attitude, and at the present his sole chance lay in the support of the reactionaries."

He spoke in a warehouse as available halls were too small. Here in Senator LaFollette's State the colonel discussed for the first time of his campaign the Senator's opposition to him. Col. Roosevelt said the Progressive party's campaign fund this year would be less than half the fund of either the Democratic or the Republican party. The Progressives, he said, were planning on a basis that would involve the expenditure of about $350,000.

Col. Rooseveit, arguing questions of some of his opponents as to why he did not take up the tariff question when he was President said: "When I became President business had just passed through two terrible earthquakes, there having been two complete and sweeping changes of the tariff in the preceding eight years. The time for such another change did not ripen until the very end of my administration.

"During the time I was President there was no complaint that I was not doing elough. The complaint of all my enemies was that I was doing too much. The chief demand that the tariff should be taken up came from the great railway and trust magnates who have always been anxious to use the tariff as a red herring to be dragged across the train whenever action which they dislike is threatened—and Mr. Wilson is obligingly trying to play their game at this moment.

"Mr. Wilson, on the tariff, as on almost every other issue, either takes no definite position or takes so many conflicting positions that it is difficult to know what he means to no. Probably Mr. Wilson has no clear idea of what he does intend to do.

"Mr. Wilson keeps asserting that the abolition of the protective tariff will help us to grapple with the high cost of living. Mr. Wilson, if fit to be President, cannot be ignorant of the way the tariff has worked in foreign countries; and, unless he is ignorant, he must know that his statement is without warrant in fact."

SIMMONS AT DURHAM

Enthusiastically Greeter by His Alma Mater, Trinity—Spoke 3 Hours

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Oct. 11.—Senator Simmons spoke for three hours in the academy to 1,500 people tonight. He was greeted by a delegation from Trinity, his alma mater. He was introduced by J. W. Umstead, a farmer of the county. Mr. Simmons represented himself as a champion of the farmers, explained his votes in regard to reciprocity and free trade as in defense of the farmers. He says his Democracy has been misrepresented by his enemies and defies anyone to find a plank in the Baltimore platform for which he does not stand. He says Locke Craig's Democracy was assailed four years ago by Kitchin who wanted his job. We must have a standard of Democracy and we now have many standards on policies, one insurgent Republicans, another the Bull Moose, and third, the Baltimore platform, the real standard. If he is false to the party nine other North Carolina Senators, Ben Tillman and August S. Bacon and others are likewise. He has won out in two State conventions and one National Assembly and if the signs do not fail, he will win again two to one. He has entered on all duties with the same spirit he accepted the chair of the Democratic executive committee in 1898. He started the Federal good roads movement, and if re-elected will see to it that road improvement will be kept up; also, agricultural improvement. He ended by outlining the next officers, Wilson for President; Craig for Governor, and Simmons for Senator.

A birth record completely filled out is extremely valuable in many ways. In the matter of inheriting property; in relations of guardians and wards; in the administration of estates; as an insurance proof when the exact age of the insured can not be determined; in determining the legal age for marriage; in voting; in obtaining pensions; in jury or military service; in professional and official life; in the enforcement of laws relating to education and child labor, as well as in public health and sociological matters, these records are often of inestimable value.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, designating myself as your humble servant. JOHN SMITH.
—The Docket.

Since the discovery that flies can carry disease germs we have come to understand why typhoid fever becomes prevalent about June, gradually increasing in frequency up to October and November, and suddenly becoming almost extinct, as it is well known that flies become plentiful about June and disappear with the approach of cold weather. Unquestionably, many outbreaks of typhoid fever that have in the past baffled the epidemiologists could have been with our present knowledge shown to have been caused by these pests.

DON'T STOP NOW.

Fly Season Over—But Don't Stop the Fight.

Yes, the fly season is almost over, but we can't afford to stop the fight now. Just now is the time to begin to head off next Summer's crop of flies. Evidently, if we don't permit many to live over Winter there will not be many to start a new crop next year, and the fly family will have a "backward season" in 1913. Keep the screens up at the doors and windows for a month or more. Don't permit any of the little pests to become stowaways in warm crevices about your house and you will not have to begin the strenuous swatting campaign so early next Spring. But don't throw away your swatter. Keep it all Winter to swat the stray fly that comes out of his hiding place on warm days. Remember that in killing off Winter and Spring flies "A stitch in time saves nine," and perhaps a great many more in the case of flies.

WAKE FOREST-CAROLINA.

Gridiron Battle Today—The Baptists Are Very Hopeful.

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 11.—Undaunted by the defeat of last Saturday at the hands of the University of South Carolina, the Wake Forest football team under the leadership of Coach Frank Thompson backed by the majority of the student body, is making preparations for the first interesting game of the season, that one with the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Saturday.

The subject of every student, whose mind is ever turned towards football, is regarding the Carolina game. Under the supervision of Cheer Leader Stringfield, and under the instruction of Dr. Hubert Poteat mass meetings are being held each evening practicing yells and cheers to be given Saturday.

At least 150 students will be on the Wake Forest special train Saturday at noon when it arrives in Chapel Hill; every man of them will be in hearty sympathy with the players, and Coach Thompson has stated that he will take 30 players.

"If the team will fight, I will be satisfied", said a football fan on the hill today, and that is the feeling of nearly the entire student body. They believe, too, that the team will fight, and figut to the last ditch. The thought of the score is not uppermost in the minds of those here today, but the thought that Carolina must earn every foot they gain on their gridiron Saturday. The football prophets have about all left Wake Forest, and consequently no prophecies are in the air. The fact that Carolina got away with the long end of the score last year by only 9 points, and that Wake Forest was not beaten by Virginia as badly as was Carolina all puts hope in the minds of Wake Forest men when they remember that the eleven this year is more experienced, faster, and heavier than the one of last year.

About the only important change which will probably occur in the line-up Saturday is the shifting of "Phil" Utley from quarterback to a halfback. "Phil's" old position will either be played by White or Rankin. Both are light men and comparatively inexperienced, but Coach Thompson believes that the shift will prove beneficial to all. The line-up will probably be as follows: Ends, Faucette Daniel, Whitted, Cuthrell; guards, Williams, Camp, Abernethy; tackles, Holding (Capt.), Britton, Moore; center, Carter; quarterback, White or Rankin; halfbacks, Utley, W. Faucette, Billings, Gooch, Riddick, A.; fullback, W. Riddick.

Competent investigators state that the deaths among children under three months of age, either wholly or partly fed on artificial foods, are 15 times as great as they are if fed on breast milk. Under normal conditions about 20 children out of every 1,000 under three months of age, die of diarrheal diseases if fed upon breast milk alone, but if artificially fed instead of 20 dying as many as 300 will die from this cause. Statistics show that the mortality rate in the first year of life is higher than in any year up to the 95th year. Therefore, if a baby can survive the dangerous first year of the chances of attaining adult life are very favorable.

DRINK CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 11.—William Wallen, 23 years old, for a number of years a most valued salesman in the T. H. Briggs & Son's hardware house here, was found dead this morning, a suicide, the fatal shot having evidently been fired yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock in his room at the boarding house of Mrs. Emma Parker, on West Edenton street.

At least, a pistol shot was heard about the building about that time and it was not located. This morning when Wallen failed to show up his room was entered and he was found lying across the bed in a pool of blood that had poured from his right temple and from his nose and mouth. In his right hand which lay across his chest was grasped a 32-calibre Colt's revolver of the police perfect variety. He left no note or word of any sort as to his rash act. At the Briggs Hardware store this morning it was stated that for three years Wallen has been drinking at intervals and he had been given two Keeley treatments without permanent effect. In July he was told that another spree would cost him his position. He had been out 11 days yesterday on a drunk and came into the store and was given his dismissal. It is presumed that this, in the wrought-up mental and nervous condition, caused his act of suicide. He is of Swiss parentage and was early left an orphan. He practically grew up in the Briggs store and was a most valued man, except for the drinking that he developed the past three years. Mr. James Briggs, senior member of the firm, says of him that he esteemed him most highly, regarding him the best stock man he had, his overthrow being entirely due to drink—"the devil's gatling gun," as he characterized whiskey.

The Raleigh aldermen have just determined to borrow at once $45,000 at 5 per cent., with which they will at once provide a thoroughly modern abbatoir and rendering plant at a cost of $25,000, apply $2,500 to needed extensions of the sewerage system, apply $12,500 to a debt on furniture for the new municipal building, and expend $2,500 in building two blocks of concrete street on Davie, between Fayetteville and Person.

The official bound volumes of the 1911 report of the North Carolina Corporation Commission to the Governor and the General Assembly is just from the presses of the State printers and is an exceptionally valuable publication. Particularly notable as valuable to the shipping public is the section covering the North Carolina freight classification and freight tariff applying to all North Carolina lines; also mileage distance tables covering all lines and express and steamboat tariffs. This section is the most complete ever embodied in any report of the commission in former years. It will be furnished to shippers on request there being no general distribution of the report except by request of those desiring copies, the purpose being to place the volumes with those who have and feel real need for them. The report also contains report of the commission as State tax commission; statistical and financial reports of railroads; reports and summaries of banks and other features. The report shows that during the year there were 261 formal complaints brought before the commission making 3,998 complaints the commission has handled since its establishment in 1899.

COTTON PICKING

Price Picker Being Used Successfully At Maxton

Maxton, N. C., Oct. 10.—Mr. Theodore H. Price, of New York, is spending this week in Maxton demonstrating his famous Price-Campbell cotton picking machines in the field of Mr. J. Gilbert Baldwin and others. The operation of the machines, five in number, is little short of marvelous and many are visiting the fields to see them work. Several progressive farmers are interested in the purchase of these machines and will probably place orders with Mr. Price for them as soon as they can be delivered.

He has sold already, for delivery next season, 100 of the machines, which takes the entire output of the factory, which is as yet limited. Within an hour after cotton was on the stalk this machine had picked it and hauled it to the Elba Manufacturing Company's gin and put into a bale for market. It could have been sold to the exporter, and loaded in car for shipment in a very few more minutes if record time were tried for.

There is no question about the machine being a great success, and with a very few slight improvements, which are always added to such inventions, it will have attained approximate perfection.

Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the labor leaders, have filed a bill of exceptions with the Supreme Court. Their case is now on its way to the District Court of Appeals.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Capt. David C. Hanks, aged 87 years, a first cousin of Abraham Lincoln, is dead at his home here. He was one of the oldest steamboat pilots on the Mississippi river. Two brothers and a sister, all over 80 years, survive.

W. B. & S. IMPROVEMENTS

Harbor Terminals to be Improved—Other Southport News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Oct. 11.—The important purchase last month by the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad Company, amounting to $15,000 of water front property, is to be followed up by the development of this purchase. The directors of the road were here this week, and engaged Mr. M. Ferguson, C. E., who is now busy at work running out lines and establishing levels, as the preliminary work to the building of docks and warehouses, which will give the railroad people a water terminal, which means a greatly increased freight business. At Bolivia, a station on the W. B. & S., about 15 miles from Southport, the railroad has built a water tank with power for keeping the tank full. The timber mills along the road are running at capacity, giving employment to a great number of men. Carload shipments from the mills of manufactured products are of daily occurrence. In the passenger department the business is beyond erpectations of what the directors estimated.

The Democrats and Republicans have named their county candidates and the exhibit shows tickets with mostly new faces. The representatives on the ticket are not new men, for Geo. H. Bellamy has been always prominent and a Democratic leader. Ex-Sheriff Dan Walker is not a new political face. He is probably nearly as well-known in New Hanover as in Brunswick.

The action of the board of aldermen at their September meeting, when an ordinance was passed ordering cement sidewalks on certain specified streets, is now being more fully realized, especially by the property owners where this sidewalk was ordered laid. Notice has been served that these sidewalks must be placed by January 1st, 1913. Bids for this work were advertised for in The Star and while no bid has been accepted as yet, a Wilmington firm was the lowest on the list. The sidewalks are to be six feet wide with 18 inches of space allowed between the walk and the property line when desired. Bids for approximately 3,000 square yards are asked for by the city. It is thought that a number of property owners not included in the city ordinance will take advantage while this work is being done to have cement sidewalks laid in front of their premises. The city will provide good crossings to connect with these cement walks. This municipal improvement will be best realized once the walks are laid.

Chaplain Springer and Mrs. Springer, of Fort Caswell, both being well-known in Wilmington, have returned from Washington where their daughter, Miss Constance, was placed in college.

Marsh hen shooting has taken out local sports this week. It is entertaining to hear what it costs per bird when the hunters return.

The busy season is on for the pilots, cotton steamers arriving and departing has kept pilots on the alert, and makes the water front active.

AFFAIRS AT TRINITY.

Historical Society Meets—Quill Drivers—Other Notes of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Oct. 11.—The Trinity College Historical Society held the first meeting Monday evening and elected officers for the current college year. The officers elected are: President, Dr. W. K. Boyd; vice president, R. L. Towe; secretary and treasurer, J. R. Davis. The chief feature of interest was the announcement of a number of donations to the society. The manuscript collections were of special interest. The largest of these was the correspondence of Governor Todd R. Caldwell, Governor of North Carolina from 1871 to his death in 1874, one of the critical periods in the history of the State. The Governor's letters, about 300 in number, are presented to the society by Mrs. Walter Brem, of Charlotte, and Mrs. Collette, of Morganton, daughters of Governor Caldwell. Along with the letters comes a number of books and magazines, making the collection one of the most valuable the society has received.

Another manuscript collection acquired is the "Reminiscences and Comments" of the late Gen. W. R. Boggs, of Winston-Salem. Gen. Boggs was a Georgian, a graduate of West Point, and an engineer of ability. He took part in perfecting the Confederate defenses at Charleston and then served with Gens. Bragg and Kirby Smith in the Southwest. The society expects to publish these reminiscences as a volume in the John Lawson Monographs, a series of books published by the society.

A third collection acquired by the society is the correspondence of Governor Pickens, of South Carolina, in 1861, and some letters of Governor Bonham, of the same State, principally with Governor Joe Brown, of Georgia. The fourth manuscript collection consists of letters written in 1775 by Richard Henderson, and those who were interested with him in the settlement of Transylvania.

The association of Newspaper correspondents has adopted the name of Quill Club. The object of the club is to aid all those who are acting as correspondents for newspapers in the gathering of news items of interest. It is also proposed to have delivered before the club lectures by prominent newspaper men.

The Debate Council, which has charge of the arrangements for intercollegiate debates held a meeting Monday afternoon, and took steps to arrange two inter-collegiate debates, and also to arrange a number of social debates to be held during the year.

HER HEART ON WRONG SIDE.

Displacement of Organ First Revealed When Woman Is Operated Upon.

(Special to Washington Post.)

Baltimore, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Christian McDonald, of Richmond, Va., is under treatment for acute stomach trouble in the University Hospital of this city, has just learned that her heart is on the right side. Surgeons made the discovery when they operated upon her for the stomach ailment.

Mrs. McDonald's physical condition apparently has never been affected by the fact that her heart is in the wrong place. Apparently the organ has been in its present position since Mrs. McDonald's birth, and so long as it does not affect her health, the physicians have advised that the heart ought not to be disturbed.

ROW AT T. R. SPEECH.

Man Calls Colonel Down—Answers Wilson's Charges.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 9.—Uproar among auditors of Colonel Roosevelt came after a colloquy between the speaker and one of his listeners tonight. The Colonel was replying to Governor Wilson's charge that the Steel Trust was behind him.

A man in an automobile in front of the colonel stood up and using his hands as a megaphone, shouted "That is not true!"

"I suppose, sir," Colonel Roosevelt called back, "that you approve of the theft at Chicago. You stand for theft, and you stand for lying and false witness—"

"That is not so," the man shouted. The crowd was thrown into such an uproar by the incident that it was some time before Colonel Roosevelt could make himself heard.

"I don't know who you are," he called out, "but I am told you represent the coal trust. It is perfectly natural that you should object to hearing the truth about your side of the campaign."

In his speech Col. Roosevelt declared that Woodrow Wilson opposed every effective means of helping the wage worker, and appealed to the working men and women of the country to support the Progressive party. In the past, Col. Roosevelt said, Governor Wilson had displayed "sullen hostility to labor", and he said Mr. Wilson had made a "sudden and violent retracing of his steps."

"The Progressive party," said the colonel, "has deliberately embodied in its platform as its most essential plank 'the supreme duty of the Nation' to secure social and industrial justice.

"The Progressive platform distinctly states that in order to carry out its purpose to establish minimum safety and health standards for wage workers, especially women and children, it will invoke the Federal control over inter-State commerce and the taxing power of both Nation and State."

Mr. Roosevelt then referred to his past record as President and his messages to Congress as indicating his attitude toward laboring men and quoted some of Mr. Wilson's writings to show that in the past he has antagonized labor unions.

S. A. L. PLANS IMPROVEMENT.

Over $5,000,000 to be Expended in Enlarging Facilities.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Baltimore, Oct. 11.—The Seaboard Air Line Railway contemplates extensive betterments, and it is intimated in local financial circles that not less than $5,000,000 will be expended in the next two years in enlarging facilities to the end that the system may reap its share of the increased movement of traffic following the opening of the Panama Canal. President W. J. Harahan, chairmon of the executive committee, S. Davies Warfield and other high officials of the company, are now going over the system and when they return will probably prepare a comprehensive plan for submission to the board.

Extension of the system from Athens to Augusta and enlargement of yards and terminals, are some of the improvements planned.

Saturday, October 12, 1912.

Columbia is raising a fund of $15,000 for the purpose of waging a get-industries campaign.

Turkey's place among the European nations appears to be on the side-table waiting to be carved.

If the Boston ball team wins it will bring on some more talk about the food value of beans.

To have to dictate a thanksgiving day proclamation may be a hard as well as perfunctory task for President Taft.

A great many Southern cities are realizing themselves. They are taking themselves out of the cow class of communities.

As we sit and look upon the fray we marvel at the ease with which great strife can be stirred up over a two-by-four political controversy.

"Roosevelt is losing ground in West Virginia," says Senator Clarence Watson. If he keeps on losing ground he will have nothing left but the coffee grounds.

"The tide is turning to Taft", says the Republican campaign managers. Yes, but he is stuck on the bottom and it will take a mighty big tide to float him.

Those candidates who are having it rubbed into them can sympathize with the author of that exhilirating ditty: "The bumblebee backed up to me and pushed."

The ladies who send away from home to buy what they want are liable to so injure the business of their city that they may have to get their old man a job where they do their trading.

As scandalous as have been the disclosures about the huge trust contributions to the Roosevelt campaign in 1904, we would more fully realize the scandal if the truth were told about how the money was spent in detail to debauch workers and voters.

Criticism is made of the Taft brothers for furnishing $375,000 to secure the nomination of their brother, William Howard Taft. We confess we would rather know that the President was placed under obligation to the Taft family than altogether to the Trust family.

A progressive is a man who has quit depositing his money in his sock. He puts it in the savings bank and draws 4 per cent. interest compounded quarterly. A progressive is a man who recognizes the fact that his money is safer in a bank vault than it is in a last year's tomato can.

"Every man should command respect," says a writer. Some men do that by acting with propriety, some by pretending to be important, some by looking wise, some by getting rich, some by keeping everybody from finding them out, and the balance by being afraid of their wives.

The trusts say they contributed great wads to the Republican campaign in 1904 "without expecting anything in return." It should be explained in their behalf that they only desired to manifest gratitude for past favors and give tangible evidence of the fact that they were perfectly satisfied to "let well enough alone."

"Money talks" in a way, but if it could really tell what was done with the long green in the 1904 campaign it would be called the biggest liar in the whole bunch. If money could tell on those who fingered it while doing campaign work, there would be no wonder that it finally winds up as filthy lucre in Uncle Sam's dirty money laundry at Washington.

REPUBLICAN REBUKE.

It is not strange that parties should be rebuked by the people. It really is quite natural that the public sense of right should sometimes assert itself when political parties deliberately offend or outrage the popular conception of decency, honesty and honor. There are times when men cease to be partisans in order to correct evil or to rebuke glaring inconsistencies and breeches of civic proprieties. We are not surprised, therefore, to learn that the Republicans of California, under the inspiration of justified indignation, have determined to teach the Bull Moose party a lesson in honest politics. Thus, the Chester (Pa.) Republican approves what appears to be the attitude of the Republicans of California:

"Governor Johnson, (running mate with Roosevelt on the third party ticket), probably thought it good politices when he prepared a primary law for California that has resulted in practically disfranchising the regular Republican party from the right of electors for the support of Mr. Taft's re-election. But the 'slick' frame-up of Governor Johnson is not likely to further his scheme to give his State to the third party. For, according to Republican leaders, fully 90 per cent. of the Republicans of that State will cast their votes for Wilson, the Democratic candidate for President, as a means of rebuke to Johnson, and in order that California may not go by default to the proposed beneficiaries of an unholy primary scheme."

Under the law in California it is possible for one party to usurp control of another party's organization in order to thwart the will of the people. The Bull Moose party took advantage of it and stole the Republican machinery to serve the ends of a party which is seeking to destroy it by such dishonest means. The steal, and legal proceedings sustaining it, has deprived California Republicans of the privilege of getting their electoral and State candidates on the ballots for the election on the 5th of November. The time granted by law to bring forward Republican nominees as "independents" has expired by reason of the delay caused by litigation, so there can be no regular Republican ticket in the field that Republican voters can display their party loyalty and maintain their party regularity.

The so-called Progressive party, preaching Armageddonism, proclaiming its virtue, canting the square deal, howling "social and industrial justice", pretending to propagate honest ideals, evangelizing against thievery, and hypocritically arraying itself to fight "the battle of the Lord," actually has robbed California Republicans out of house and home. One of the immoral results is a serious crime against the civic rights of the Republicans of California. They have been disfranchised in spite of the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of California.

On account of trickery and fraud under the guise of law, Californians cannot vote a Republican ticket. The ticket so labeled is used as the Bull Moose ticket, and if Republicans were to vote at random in the election it would mean to turn the State over to Roosevelt and Johnson who would thus profit by a steal which they have endorsed and engineered. Such methods speak for themselves, and the men and the party who are guilty of it deserve rebuke and condemnation. We are glad that the Californians look at it that way and will vote for Wilson and Marshall.

The California steal is not so much the fault of the California primary law as it is of the conscienceless, dishonorable men who are making the Progressive party violate its decalogic plagiarism, "Thou Shalt Not Steal." They deserve to be pilloried and hammered on the knee joints by the public opinion and civic uprightness of California. The law only afforded the opportunity for the steal. It was the lack of principle and honor that took advantage of a technicality to thwart the will of a large portion of the sovereign people of California. Not only ought the Californians rebuke it, but it ought to be rebuked in every State of the Union by securing the triumph of the party which never stole at Chicago and never stole in California—the people's party which offers for President Woodrow Wilson, scholar, statesman and clean American.

REPUBLICANS STIRRING UP TROUBLE

The Senatorial campaign in North Carolina seems to be receiving more attention than the National campaign for the election of a Democratic President. As the campaign is in its closing weeks, we find the contest between the Senatorial aspirants getting beyond all bounds. There are charges and countercharges, just as The Star long ago feared would be the case.

Meanwhile, Democrats all over the State seem to be absolutely confident of a tremendous victory for Woodrow Wilson and Locke Craig. Spielers in the Senatorial campaign are many and they are speaking all over the State, warming up to a fight that bodes the Democratic party no good. The National campaign is not altogether neglected, although State Chairman Webb complained that he could not secure as many campaigners as he desired, owing to the fact that the best speakers on all sides are on the stump serving their respective Senatorial favorites. They are all Democrats, however, and while each speaks for his Senatorial candidate, he puts in some good licks for the National ticket. On the National ticket there is no quarreling, but in the Senatorial contest the contentions are severe and the wrangles dangerous to Democratic harmony. What the zealous friend of one candidate for the Senate says on politics generally will hardly receive much attention from the opposition, and vice versa.

Most of the newspapers also have lined up and are in the fray to a finish. We would not dare to repeat what the campaigners and the editors are saying about each other's candidates. There is much bad blood over it, especially in central Carolina, and to save us we don't see how some of the scars being made will ever be healed. We rather presume that they won't be, and it is easy to foresee that whatever the result is as to the Senatorial nomination, we will hereafter have two Democratic factions ready to take each other by the throats.

This is the situation as it appears to us, and probably nothing that can be said can help the cause. The fire has been set and it will sweep the State, come what will. The Republicans are making the most of it, and we presume the Bull Moosers are also, though we have no Bull Moose newspapers from which we can see what they are saying and doing. The old line Republicans, however, seem to be making a pretty warm campaign, and so far as their publications are concerned they do not want any better material than the charges which Democrats are making against each other. The worst part of it is, that these recriminating charges will have no answer to them, for one Senatorial candidate's friends will not deny what they say about the other candidate, while his friends will not retract any charges they have made.

Will it hurt? Well, we should say it will. The Republicans campaign headquarters are preparing articles and broadcasting them throughout the State, and they are compiled from speeches and newspaper articles which Democrats are furnishing. Of course, there are comments going to show that what all Democrats say of each other is true. Their authority is Democratic and so there is no remedy.

We have before us a Republican paper which is storing up trouble for the Democrats by compiling the Democratic evidence against eachother. It presents their charges and countercharges in the strongest possible light, and urges all of them as reasons why no Democratic aspirant is fit to go to the Senate. Just as we expected. What Democrat will be strong enough to get the party together after the 5th of November?

"A PEOPLE AWAKENED"

The Star acknowledges receipt of a new book with the above title, written by Mr. Charles Reade Bacon, of the staff of the Philadelphia Record. For this work our thanks are due to that former esteemed Wilmingtonian, Mr. Walker W. Vick, assistant secretary of the National Democratic Committee, whose headquarters are in New York.

Mr. Bacon's book is "A story of Woodrow Wilson's First Campaign," in which the former Princeton president carried New Jersey and was elected Governor in a Republican and trust-ridden State. That, triumph of Wilson is what made him the Democratic nominee for President, and Mr. Bacon's history of his fight in Jersey in a marvelously cogent and lucid way points out the strong points of Wilson. It serves, more than anything else we have seen, the purpose of demonstrating the character and power that lies in the next President of the United States.

"A People Awakened" shows who is the progressive who did things, for it was under the lead of Wilson that New Jersey led the States in the great movement for the restoration of the government to the people. It is truly said that "until Woodrow Wilson suddenly loomed upon the horizon of affairs New Jersey was asleep." Against great odds he overthrew bossism and corrupt politics in both parties and handed over New Jersey to its people. He proposes to do the same thing with the United States government, and he is the very man to do it. That is why the American voters will elect him President, and that is what his election will mean.

The Kress people are making their stores a permanent feature of the commercial system of various Southern cities. They are erecting a $75,000 store in Augusta, and already own buildings in many cities. They have one in Salisbury and probably in other North Carolina cities. Their largest store in North Carolina is in Wilmington. By erecting its own buildings, the company closely allies itself with the commercial system of a city and gives to its establishments the character of home institutions.

A progressive is a man whose views are broad and who is not steeped in prejudice. Some men who are narrow-minded, egotistic, and intolerant, mistake themselves for progressives. A man is always a progressive when he has common sense enough to calmly face conditions as they exist and philosophically meet the requirements of the times. A man who takes along a sack and loads it with patent nostrums is no progressive. He is only a sucker of the most reactionary type.

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder exceeds others in leavening power, in purity and wholesomeness, and is used generally in families, exclusively in the most celebrated hotels and restaurants, by the United States Army and Navy, and wherever the best and finest food is required. Teachers of cooking schools and lecturers upon culinary matters use and recommend the Royal.

Royal is the only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It is admittedly the best and most healthful baking powder made.

When you know what is best, please ask for it.

J. Pierpont Morgan says his $150,000 campaign subscription was given "without expectation of anything in return." Besides, it wasn't any use to expect anything in return when it was well known that under the "privilege" system "everything comes to him who waits." It would be exceedingly mistrustful to hang around like a New York policeman and drive a hard bargain.

The friends of two of the Senatorial candidates are getting mad because one side is meeting misrepresentation with something of the same kind. Of course, there never was any use for it on either side, but those who started it might have expected that it would come their time to be put on the defensive. Biters can always rely upon getting bitten, bite for bite.

The political "head hunters" are still on the trail.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Wilson has a plan for regulating the trusts, but he has no means of knowing how his party will take it. It may be that the corporations have not been running the Republican party yet it has been made plain that they have been financing that organization. —Durham Sun.

If Col. Roosevelt is defeated in November he has a job open to him, Frank A. Munsey says he would be delighted to have him edit the New York Press at a salary of $100,000 a year. As the President's salary is $75,000, both the colonel and the people would gain by his defeat.—Chester (Pa.) Republican.

The South is a great country. New evidences of this fact crop out every day. Where else is there in the United States a cotton mill that draws up its supply of coal from its back door, as conveniently as the farmer draws water from his well? Such a condition exists at the Cordova Mills, at Birmingham, the Indian Head Mills of Alabama, whose agent, Mr. Scott Maxwell, was here yesterday, attending the meeting of the directors of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association. The Cordova factory mines coal at its very doors and has no freight bill to pay on its fuel. We doubt if there is another such combination of cotton mill and coal mine in the world. In Charlotte, a cotton mill was built over a gold mine and uses the mine shaft as its source of water supply, but this is not quite equal to the Birmingham mill and mine combination.—Charlotte Observer.

Jerry Moore, of Winona, must indeed look to his laurels. Pretensions to his title of champion corn growers of the South were made last week by a young Mississippian, Barney Thomas, of DeSoto county, through Leslie's Weekly; and The State took pleasure in pointing out that young Thomas had coaxed from his prize acre only 225 bushels, whereas Jerry's crop had measured 228 3-4 bushels. But now comes the Montgomery Advertiser with the statement that an Alabama boy, Bennie Owens, of Elmore county, "grew this year 237 3-4 bushels of corn on one acre of land." South Carolina would retain the honor of having produced the largest corn yield upon a prize acre, whether or not the claim now made in behalf of the Alabama lad should be successfully maintained, because Capt. Drake of Marlboro harvested 255 bushels of corn from a single acre of his plantation more than a quarter century ago; but we are concerned for the fame of Jerry Moore until we learn that his 1912 crop excels that of any of his rivals in the boys' corn club competition. Meantime we lay the pleasing unction to our souls that The Advertiser does not report the alleged achievement of Benny Owens to have been officially certified.—Columbia State.

OVERMAN SPEAKS.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Oct. 11.—Senator Lee S. Overman addressed a large and representative gathering of both ladies and gentlemen in the court house in this city at 8 o'clock this evening. Senator Overman was gracefully introduced by Mr. L. C. Warren, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, after which the speaker addressed his audience. His speech was a masterpiece, couched in beautiful language and eloquently delivered. Among other things the Senator complimented the Democratic members of Congress on the records that they had made during the past session of Congress and keeping of their pledges so far as possible. He blamed Roosevelt and Taft for their alliance with the trusts and said that Roosevelt was a plutocrat and Taft a weakling, and deeply deplored the fact that two such political leaders as a President and an ex-President should indulge in such a mud-slinging fight as they have done, thereby bringing about a serious split in their party. He complimented the various committee in the House of the recent stand that they had made for tariff revision and blamed Taft for vetoing these same tariff bills after they had passed both Houses, preferring rather to serve and favor the trusts consisting of five men than all the remainder of the 90,000,000 American people. He also made a short review of reconstruction days and showed how the Democratic party under the leadership of such men as Vance and Aycock had done for North Carolina and its Democracy and what progress it had made in the entire South and predicted future progress under Craig and Wilson. He also gave a brief resume of the Baltimore convention and said the people of the United States were tired of boss and trust rule and were going to fight for clean Democratic principles, a government for the people and by the people. Senator Overman spoke for an hour and forty minutes and his speech was well received by his audience and brought forth much applause. Hon. Thomas Settle and David Blair, prominent Republicans, were in the audience tonight, which heard Senator Overman.

AS TO RECIPROCITY

Our attention has been called to the advertisement in Sunday's Star signed Frank Herbst containing among other choice statements, the following: "Another Democratic measure, reciprocity, Mr. Simmons helped to defeat, not openly, but by tacking on as an amendment the elusive Farmers' Free List bill. Senator Simmons knew that President Taft would veto this Democratic measure when he tacked the amendment on, and so with the help of two other discredited Democrats, the bill went dwon in defeat."

This false charge is on a par with others made by people who want his place for somebody else. Everybody knows the reciprocity bill was prepared by the Republican President, passed both Houses of Congress, and was signed by him, but was repudiated by the voters of Canada, largely an agricultural people. Simmons spoke and voted against it because it discriminated against the great agricultural interests of this country and offered to vote for it if the Republican class features were eliminated.

It is hardly conceivable that a disinterested Cape Fear Democrat can be opposed to Simmons' re-election.

HARD WEEK FOR SHOW FOLKS

Representatives of All Leading Attractions Here This Week Have Been in Court—Suits Brought on Contract.

This week has been a hard one for show or theatrical people in Wilmington. Some of those connected with each of the three principal attractions with which the week was begun have been in trouble—court, either in a criminal or civil action. The first to get into court were persons connected with the carnival at Highwood Park and they were arrested on criminal charges. Then on yesterday civil actions were instituted against the companies playing this week at the Academy of Music and Crystal Palace, the plaintiffs in each of the several cases suing for salaries alleged to be due them under contract.

Mr. Theodore Christopher obtained judgment in Justice Harriss' court yesterday afternoon against Edward Lumsley, Ben Lumsley, and Marie Lumsley, for $21. The plaintiff was suing for $67 alleged to be due him on salary for the past nine weeks. The Lumsleys are playing at the Crystal Palace this week. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., represented the plaintiff, while Brooke G. Empie, Esq. appeared for the defendants.

Several players in the Edyth Totten Company, which opened a week's engagement at the Academy of Music Monday night, but closed Wednesday because, it was explained, there was illness in the company, have brought action for amounts alleged to be due them on their salaries. The cases were to have been investigated before Justice Harriss yesterday afternoon, but after one of the plaintiffs had been examined it was decided to continue the hearing until 9 o'clock this morning, owing to the fact that summons had not been served on Messrs. Marx S. Nathan and Joe Nathan, of the local theatre, and S. A. Schloss, manager of the Schloss Theatre Circuit, who are made defendants with Miss Edyth Totten. Summons was served in the afternoon on Mr. Marx Nathan and possibly on the other two defendants.

Miss E. Estelle Synague is suing for $48.50; Vincent Daily for $13.50 and Miss Orlo Lea for $40. The plaintiffs claim that they were employed in New York by Miss Totten who, they claim, represented that she was acting for the Schloss Theatre Circuit and guaranteed the payment of their salaries. They went from New York to Winston-Salem, where they played four nights and came to Wilmington to open an engagement Monday night. One of the defendants, a lady, testified yesterday afternoon that she was engaged for $25 a week and had been paid only $14, $9 by Miss Totten in Winston-Salem and $5 in Wilmington by Mr. Joe Nathan. She testified that the reason there was no show Wednesday and since that time was because two or three of the players quit when their salaries were not forthcoming. The plaintiff in question said that she and the other lady defendant did not quit, but were there ready to continue with their parts had the show been put on. When the company disbanded, so to speak, Miss Totten and a few of the others began rehearsals for "Faust," which they propose to present at the Academy of Music today. The plaintiffs in the actions instituted yesterday and possibly one or two other players were not included in the cast selected to play "Faust", but, according to their contention, were left here among strangers without any money or any way to get back to New York, whence they came. It was testified to yesterday that an offer had been made to the plaintiff by Mr. Joe Nathan to send them back to New York and that they readily agreed to the proposal, but this was as far as the matter got. The plaintiffs consulted Mayor Smith and talked with several other city and county officials and finally decided to bring the civil actions.

Iredell Meares and George Meares, Esqs., represent the plaintiffs. The defendants will likely be represented by counsel when the trial is resumed this morning. No one appeared for Miss Totten yesterday, in fact, she told the court that she did not need an attorney. Indeed she would not if allowed to plead her own case, which she started to do yesterday afternoon, but digressed to such an extent that she was stopped by the magistrate under threat of sending her to jail. She arose to a question of privilege, as she termed it, first, to say that what the witness had said about her guaranteeing the salaries was untrue, as she had no authority to give any such assurance, and, second, to say that the reason Daily did not get all of his money was because it was appropriated by another member of the company, who was present, but is not a party to the action. She said that she had forbade the man whom she alleged got the money to speak to her again anywhere and referred to him as an anarchist. He did not look the part assigned, however, but rather appeared to the other extreme. Miss Totten said in open court that this man caused the disbanding of the company by not giving Daily the money due him, and by other acts.

Further hearing of the case will be held this morning.

PRISONER WALKED AWAY

County Officers Claim Had No Papers On Which to Hold Ed. Bosewell, Alleged Crook—Other Cases Heard

Forsaken by the officer or officers in whose custody he is said to have been, pending his return to the county jail, whither it is claimed he was committed Thursday to await judgment in a case charging larceny from the person, Ed. Bosewell, one of the five alleged crooks arrested at Highwood Park Wednesday for robbing three persons, quietly took his departure from the city yesterday morning, just after he had given his attorney a check covering the amount of the fine and costs imposed on him and his friend and partner, Jim Hoover, in the Recorder's court, and there is little likelihood that he will be recaptured. In fact, there was apparently no effort made to recapture him. The officers claim that they had no papers for the man and therefore made no effort to hold him.

Of the five defendants arrested on the fair grounds Wednesday two remain in jail, these being George Brayford and W. C. Pearce. The former was charged with Bosewell with the larceny from the person of $30 from Mr. Rufus Phelps, of Ash, Brunswick county, the preliminary hearing being held Thursday. Justice King announced that he would hold both for Superior Court and committed them to jail pending hearing on the question of bond. Bosewell was charged in a warrant with Jim Hoover with larceny by trick, which was scheduled for trial before Justice King at 9 o'clock yesterday.

Bosewell and Hoover were brought out of jail and taken to Justice King's court at that time. Brayford was left in jail. W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., representing the prosecution, moved to amend the warrant to charge gambling instead of larceny by trick. The motion was allowed and counsel for the defense, Scull & McNorton, waived preliminary hearing and the case went over immediately to the Recorder's court. Justice King said that he gave Deputy Sheriff Reynolds a commitment for the two men for the Recorder's court and Mr. Reynolds says that he turned the men over to Deputy Sheriffs Brown and Branch at the Recorder's court.

When the case was called in the Recorder's court, Mr. Turner briefly stated the circumstances of the case and called attention to the fact that there was no other charge against Hoover, but that Bosewell was being held by the magistrate for Superior Court to answer a charge of larceny from the person. J. A. McNorton, Esq., of counsel for the defendant, is also said to have mentioned the fact that Bosewell was being held for higher court on another charge. Both defendants entered a plea of guilty and Recorder Furlong fined them $5 each and costs.

In speaking of the case yesterday afternoon, Mr. McNorton said that after the Recorder pronounced judgment that he went out to find a blank check so that Bosewell could give a check covering the amount of the fines and costs. In going out he passed Deputy Sheriff Branch, who is also the jailer, and Deputy Sheriff Brown, just on the outside of the City Hall, apparently arguing as to who had custody of the defendants. The attorney said that he was asked a question relative to the matter and replied that Bosewell was being held for Superior Court, but that there was no further charge against Hoover. Returning to the City Hall after getting the check, Mr. McNorton says that he again had occasion to mention the fact that Bosewell, one of his clients, was being held for higher court and that this statement was made, he thinks, in the presence of the county officers. He then asked the officers or one of them, to go along with him and the prisoners to find Mr. J. D. Sidbury to get him to endorse the check. Mr. Branch, he says, went with them. They met Mr. Sidbury at Third and Princess streets and then went to Mr. W. P. Gafford's office, where the check was made out, endorsed and cashed. Mr. Branch went with them to the office, Mr. McNorton said. He did not know if the officer went in the rear of the office where the check was made out. When Mr. McNorton came out Hoover was some distance away from the office and he did not see Mr. Branch. Mr. McNorton said that Bosewell, who was with him, asked what he must do and he replied by asking where was the officer. Bosewell said that evidently he had gone. Mr. McNorton said that he then told Bosewell that he (McNorton) could not hold him. Bosewell evidently walked on down the street and out of the city. Mr. McNorton went on to the Court House and paid the amount of the fines and costs in the two cases.

The position of the prosecution is that Mr. Branch should have held Bosewell under the original paper and certainly should have received some instructions before letting him go free.

Sheriff S. P. Cowan was asked about the matter yesterday afternoon and he said that the man was not held by Mr. Branch for the simple reason that he did not have any paper upon which to hold him, that had proper papers been issued the man most certainly would have been in jail at that time.

The prosecution raised the point that if the county officers had no authority for holding Bosewell then they had no right to hold Brayford, who was placed in jail at the same time and under the same papers as Bosewell. During the afternoon Mr. Branch went to Mr. King and asked for papers upon which to hold Brayford. The papers, it is said, were issued.

Brayford was to have been brought out at 5 o'clock in the afternoon for a hearing on the question of bond, but Sheriff Cowan declined to allow the prisoner to come out for this purpose on a paper from the magistrate. The matter was taken up with Judge Carter by W. P. Gafford, Esq., of counsel for the defense, and Judge Carter held that the case had passed out of the jurisdiction of the magistrate. Judge Carter was asked to lower the bond, which had been fixed at $500, but he declined to act unless the solicitor recommended it. Solicitor H. E. Shaw was present during the conference and he would not consent to a reduction in the amount of the bond.

W. C. Pearce, who was tried Thursday before Justice King for larceny by trick, will be tried in the Recorder's court this morning for gambling, the warrant having been amended.

All three of the complainants who are said to have lost money at the carnival through the operations of the five defendants have had their money returned to them with the exception of about $4 to Messrs. J. A. and Rufus Phelps, of Brunswick. Both lost about $76 and had returned to them about $72. It is said that this is all the prisoners had in ready cash. The Brunswick county men left for their home during the day much happier than they have been at any time since they were first touched. Both declare that it is their last experience at a fair or carnival. Mr. C. C. Potter, the other complainant, had his money, $54.25, returned to him Thursday.

The man Bosewell who got away yesterday is thought to be the man wanted at Monroe for the larceny of a horse and buggy. Chief of Police Fowler yesterday morning received a letter from Chief of Police T. B. Laney, of Monroe, to the effect that a man giving his name as E. C. or Ed. C. Bosewell hired a horse and buggy from Mr. J. E. Little there February 10th, and never returned with it. The man claimed to be a lightning rod agent. The description given is said to have tallied with the description of Bosewell. Chief Fowler notified the Monroe man of the similarity in the descriptions and he received two telegrams in the afternoon, both asking that the man be held. However, Bosewell had already gone.

EVERY ONE SHOULD REGISTER

Or at Least See That Their Names Are Properly Placed on Books

The registration books for the general election November 5th have been opened for some days now and the registrars report that very few people have registered so far. The books close the latter part of the month and it behooves every good citizen to see that his name is on the books, and he ought to do this as early as possible.

While there is not what is called a new registration every voter should take the trouble to ascertain from the registrar in his ward whether or not his name appears on the books. Those who registered for the primary two years ago, but did not register for the general election are not entitled to vote unless they register again for the general election, but those whose names appear on the registration books for the last general election will have their names transcribed to the books for the approaching general election. But as stated every voter should risk no mistakes, but see for himself that his name appears on the books. Those who have removed from one ward to another since the last general election must register again in the ward to which they have removed in order to vote in the coming election.

The leaders of the Democratic party hope that New Hanover will roll up the largest vote in years and they will make an effort to have all register and vote.

Today, between the hours of 9 A. M., and sunset the registrars will be at their respective polling places for the purpose of registering or giving assurance to any voter that he is registered and the opportunity should be embraced by all who expect to vote in the coming election. The polling places are given for each ward and precinct elsewhere in today's paper in an official advertisement by the Election Board.

NEWS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

Football Team In Fine Condition—Senior Class Elects Officers—Indications Are Good for A Splendid Year

The High School football team has been hard at work each afternoon under Prof. H. S. Shaw, the principal, who is being assisted by Mr. William Shaw in coaching the team. The material this season is the best in years, being exceptionally fast and of good avoirdupois.

Each position is being hotly contested for by the candidates and as yet no positions have been assigned. The probable line-up is as follows: Will Monroe, last year's gritty end is back on the job this season. Capt. Charles Burnett will make it interesting for any tackle in the State, while either Johnson, Hicks or Rhodes will hold down right guard. Merriman and Penny look like an even choice for center; they are both very aggressive men and either would make his opponent "go some." On the left side of the line Herring or Thomas will put up a stonewall defense, while Grant, Wagner or J. Monroe at tackle are all showing up in gilt-edge form. At left end N. Silverman, Fenley or I. Silverman would each be a worthy running mate for W. Monroe.

The backfield will be fast and aggressive, being composed of such men as "Ditty" Hall at quarterback, who ran the team with great success last year. Hashagen or A. Hall at left halfback are putting up a "class A" article of ball regardless of the fact that they are new men in the rear garden. In Bob Burnett the team has a man that can always be relied upon, having made All-State football team two years. Williams at right halfback is exceptionally speedy and a consistent ground gainer.

A good schedule has been arranged by Manager T. W. Strange. It is as follows: Oct. 19th, Rocky Mount Y. M. C. A., in Wilmington. Oct. 26th, Washington High School in Washington. Nov. 2nd, Donaldson at Fayetteville. Nov. 4th, Greensboro High School, at Greensboro. Nov. 11th, Greensboro High School, at Wilmington. Nov. 16th, Washington High School, at Wilmington. Nov. 23rd, open. Nov. 28th, Raleigh High School, at Wilmington.

Yesterday at noon the Athletic Association met to discuss dues and also the manner in which the expense of the visiting teams are to be defrayed.

At a meeting of the Senior class yesterday the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Mr. G. W. Strange, president; Mr. Kenneth Otten, vice president; Miss Eliza Davis, secretary; Mr. W. G. Monroe, treasurer.

All things taken into consideration the school seems to have entered on the most successful term of its history.

THE SENATORIAL PRIMARY

Executive Committee Met Yesterday And Named Pollholders

Pollholders for this county for the Senatorial primary to be held November 5th, were selected yesterday at a meeting of the New Hanover county Democratic Executive Committee. The meeting was held in the office of the chairman, Mr. George Harriss. It was decided to assess each of the three candidates for the United States $25 to cover any possible expense in connection with primary. Chairman Harriss, B. G. Empie, Esq., and Capt. THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Girl Goes to Farm for Season for Assault on Negro Woman.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Emma Stevens, a negro girl, apparently about 15 years old, was sentenced to three months on the county farm for assault with deadly weapon on Madeline Smith, a negro woman. It is alleged that the girl cut the woman seriously on the hand. Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared for the defendant and gave notice of appeal to Superior Court.

G. W. Lewis answered two charges one for disorderly conduct and the other for assault with deadly weapon on Mr. Chas. Finkelstein, the weapon alleged to have been used being a cuspidor. He was fined $10 and costs. Mr. Frank T. Mills was found not guilty of a charge of blocking Dock street, near 17th, with a wagon a few nights ago. A case against Robert Miles, colored, charged with violating the prohibition law, was nol prossed with leave. A case against Jim Young, colored, charged with selling whiskey, was continued until today.

James Hoover and Ed Bosewell, who were following the carnival at Highwood Park, submitted to a charge of gambling and were fined $5 each and costs. The cases came up from Justice King's court and a more detailed account is given in another column of today's paper.

The shows are now touring the Carolinas and press notices are of the very best this season. The shows make their Winter quarters at Salisbury, N. C., and have now been on the road for several months. The exhibition will be on the large vacant lot on Fourth and Castle streets.

Died From Effects of Poison.

Lillie Carter, the young white woman who took a quantity of "rough on rats" a few nights ago, died Thursday night at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Although she was reported as being out of danger the day after she took the pison, she later grew worse and was sent to the hospital. The girl gave as the reason for taking the poison that she was tired of living. The burial took place yesterday afternoon in Oak Grove cemetery. There was no service.

HOW TO GET FAT.

Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

LECTURES NEAR A CLOSE

Series at First Presbyterian Church Will End Tomorrow—Large Congregation Heard the Lecturer Yesterday.

The series of Bible lectures, now in progress at the First Presbyterian church, will close with the regular services of tomorrow. Rev. Lewis S. Chafer, of New York, associate Bible teacher with Dr. C. I. Scofield, has conducted this series of lectures under the direction of the Scofield School of the Bible.

The services of yesterday were of unusual interest. In the afternoon Mr. Chafer concluded the series on "Personal Responsibility in Soul Winning." The lecture was on the New Testament Priesthood and the need of constant cleansing. "Every believer," the speaker said, "is a Priest unto God and has the office and service of priesthood by virtue of his new birth into the family of God. He will naturally be compelled to intercede for lost men by the fact that God's love is brought into his life by the very presence of the Holy Spirit in him. If there is something wrong in a Christian's life the Spirit ceases to work out the Divine compassion, or first fruit of the Spirit, which is Love, and gives Himself to pleading with the Christian for the putting away of the sin. This is why so many of us do not realize a Divine compassion for the lost when it is most natural that we should. If we are cleansed the Spirit will then begin to produce tais burden for others in us."

At the evening service Mr. Chafer concluded the theme of the securing of the believer. He held the large audience for a full hour with the closest and most exhaustive study of the whole testimony of God on this great subject. It was seemingly a brief time because of the intense interest. The subject was taken up in its relation to God the Father, God the Son, and God the Spirit also in the light of the new covenant, and in the light of the intercession of Christ. This with a very careful reference to the positive promises of God gave no room for doubt but what it is the direct plan and purpose of God to perfectly save and keep all who come once into sonship. Mr. Chafer closed this lecture by reading Rom. 8:33-39. In this passage Paul clearly states that he is persuaded that he is secure. "If we do not believe we are secure," the speaker said, "We are not of Paul's faith."

Where to Get Passports.

Maj. W. N. Harriss, acting Royal Vice Consul for Greece for North and South Carolina, in the absence of Mr. D. G. Vafiadi, who is in Charleston, S. C., on an official visit, yesterday received from Athens, Greece, a cablegram to the effect that all Greeks leaving the Carolinas for Greece may get their passports from the Pan-Helenic Union, New York City. No local Greeks have as yet announced their purpose of returning to join their country in the war against Turkey, but it is expected that a few of them will go. A number have gone from Asheville and 100 in Charlotte are planning to respond to the call.

Healthy, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From The Woman Beautiful.)

A dull, drab, muddy complexion, or a blotchy, pimply or freckled skin, can by a quite simple, harmless and inexpensive method, be changed to one of flower-like radiance and purity. One ounce of common mercolized wax, sold by druggists generally, will remove the most unsightly complexion in from one to two weeks. By its remarkable absorptive power, the withered, faded or discolored layer of thin film-skin which hides the healthier skin underneath, is gradually flecked off in tiny, almost invisible particles. This is done so gently there is no inconvenience, and no trace is left on the skin except that of enhanced beauty. The wax is smeared on like cold cream before retiring, and removed in the morning with warm water.

If the skin be wrinkled or saggy, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1-2 pt. witch hazel will be found most effective. Combining both astringent and tonic properties, this tightens the skin and braces up its supporting muscles.

BURNED BY MURIATIC ACID

Eugene Turrentine Victim of Practical Joke Yesterday

A practical joke, perpetrated by one small boy upon another yesterday afternoon about 6:30 at Front and Red Cross, was attended by rather serious results and could have been even worse. While Master Ernest George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave George, who reside on Fifth street, between Nixon and Taylor, was talking to Master Eugene Turrentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turrentine, Jr., a much smaller boy, Ernest stooped down and emptied a vial containing an ounce of commercial Muriatic acid on the sandal of the other boy's right foot. The acid burned Eugene's foot through sandal and stocking and caused the little fellow great pain, and had not his older brother, John Turrentine, taken him at once to the Payne Drug Co., at Fifth and Red Cross streets, it might have been more considerably burned. It was stated that it will be some time before the lad can year a shoe on the injured foot. Last night he was reported to be resting as easy as could be expected.

Deputies Attack Greek Copper Strikers and Wound Two.

Shortly after a steam shovel began operations at the Utah Copper Company's pit this morning, Greek strikers congregated at their settlement which faces the excavation. Deputies closed in on them from all directions. A partly completed trench, which the deputies declare was intended for breastworks, was discovered. While some of the officers dispersed the crowd, others searched the houses. A number of weapons were seized. One Greek was felled by a blow over the head with a rifle which laid open his scalp. Another was shot and may die.

U. D. C. STATE CONVENTION.

Salisbury Meeting is Full of Interest. Historical Programme.

Salisbury, N. C., Oct. 10.—The second day of the annual convention of the North Carolina Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy opened session this morning with nearly 150 delegates in attendance. The sessions are being attended with a great deal of interest. At the forenoon session a number of business items came up and were disposed with.

There were a number of reports from committees, the ones of general interest being those having in hand the matter of the Arlington and Shiloh monuments.

Mrs. Faison, of the Arlington committee wanted to have $1,000 by the date of the cornerstone laying. The preliminaries for selecting the debating teams will be held some time in February.

TWO AVIATORS MISSING

Navy Fliers Cannot Be Found—Left In Hydro-aeroplane

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Wireless messages are being sent from the Philadelphia navy yard to all parts of the Delaware bay and river in an effort to locate Marshall E. Reed and Lieutenant Commander Henry C. Mustin, of the navy yard, who left Cape May point this afternoon in an hydro-eroplane bound for this city. Nothing has been heard from the two men since they started on their journey at 2:45 this afternoon. It was believed they would reach the navy yard here before 6 o'clock. When they failed to arrive it was said they had landed at Cape May.

This, however, proved incorrect. Commander Grant, of the navy yard, ordered that every effort be made to locate them by wireless. Mustin and Reed has estimated that the trip would take three hours. Only enough gas could be carried to last two and three-quarter hours and their plan was to stop at New Castle, Del., to replenish their supply. They did not get far. Relatives of the men believe some river craft must have picked them up.

SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK, Wilmington, N. C.

..Theatrical..

The Academy of Music makes an extraordinary offering today and being Saturday the theatre will present both matinee and night performances. The attraction will be Lewis Morrison's elaborate and well known version of Goethe's immortal "Faust" and a beautiful production is promised. "Faust" is still one of the biggest of favorites with playgoers everywhere and Wilmington amusement-lovers have a tender spot in their hearts for the noted play. They also well remember when the late Lewis Morrison used to present it in Wilmington to crowded houses. The version today will be the identical Morrison version and it will be given with special scenery and with all necessary electrical effects. Mr. Wayne Spencer will appear in the role of "Mephisto", a part he has played praised by noted critics, and he will be supported by a splendid cast. The roles of "Marguerite", "Dame Martha" and "Valentine" are promised in most capable hands, and will help to make the performance one of high artistic merit.

But the extraordinary part is that the prices will be of the popular type for a play of this kind. The matinee prices will be but 10 and 20 cents and a school child will be admitted to any part of the theatre for 10 cents. The night scale will be 10, 20 and 30 cents and seats for tonight can now be reserved at Plummer's. The courtesy of free admission will be extended the ladies tonight under the usual conditions, which apply to the sale of the first 200 seats.

Saturday at the Bijou.

Another week-end at the popular Bijou, and it is going to be the biggest on record. A superb bill has been selected for today, to make a glorious climax to one of the most successful weeks in the history of this handsome amusement palace. It is a jam every Saturday at the Bijou, but notwithstanding the jam there is always solid comfort, because the seating capacity of the theatre is big and the ventilation is perfect. The price never varies. It is always 5 cents, afternoon or night.

Pathe's most wonderful film and greatest novelty is on today in "At the Burglar's Command." It is a film of most unique, highly interesting plot, telling of a midnight burglary and the escapade that took place, with the manipulator of the dark lantern as the star. It has been proclaimed the most exceptional film ever manufactured and it has created a big sensation.

"The Irony of Fate" is another topliner, and it deals with a human nature subject. It tells of what might have been and the unhappiness caused thereby. A young woman married the man she does not love and in spite of his riches and his efforts to make her happy, brightness will not come to her. The man she really loves and who loves her is also unhappy and he dies a bachelor. The story is beautifully told, in most novel manner, and the scenes are vivid.

The other films for today are also big ones and will help to make today the biggest Saturday of all, and one that will be appreciated by the immense Saturday crowds.

The Grand Theatre

As usual the Grand Theatre will offer a big week-end bill and one that should naturally pack the theatre from "pit to dome." As a big feature Mr. Leonard Chick will sing the greatest song hit of the rag time variety that has ever been given in Wilmington. It is "The Oceana Roll." The illustrations with this song are the best ever turned out and have never been seen before in Wilmington. Anyone who likes a real comic song should be sure to hear this number.

One of the feature films for today will be "Nothing to Wear," a Vitagraph of pleasing interest. With a portiere and a lamp shade, a house maid dresses herself to kill. She makes a great hit. She has some trouble doing it, but she does. It is put on by a splendid cast and should prove a most attractive number on today's programme.

"Under False Colors" is an Edison that is bound to attract attention. It is the story of Mrs. Goodwin who had nothing but money and social aspirations. She has a daughter which she wishes to give in marriage and the story that is interwoven around these two personages is enough to make a brass statue laugh. In addition to these two there is still a third film and with the realistic effects and the always good music by the orchestra, it should be a banner day at The Grand.

STILL HOPE FOR PEACE.

London Legation Without News From Balkans—Fighting Progresses.

London, Oct. 11.—No news was received in London tonight concerning operations of the Montenegrins in the direction of the Turkish town of Schtarri or of hostilities on the other Balkan frontiers. The legations of the Balkan States in London were without advices relating to the situation, either of a military or diplomatic nature.

The continued delay in declaring war by the other States has revived hopes in diplomatic quarters here that a general war in the Balkans may yet be averted.

Constantinople, Oct. 11.—Fighting between the Turks and Montenegrins was still in progress this morning in the region of Tushi north of Scutari. No further details have reached here.

SCHOONER ABANDONED.

The Henry Weiler, of New York, Sighted by Steamer.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 11.—With her deck awash and part of her foremast still standing, the schooner Henry Weiler, of New York, is reported abandoned at sea.

The steamer Creole reported sighting the derelict schooner in latitude 33.55 north, 75.35 west, on Thursday. There was no sign of life on board and nothing is known here as to the fate of her crew.

Baltimore, Oct. 11.—The death penalty for criminal assault was imposed here today when Wesley Miles, negro, was sentenced to be hanged for assaulting a 15-year-old white girl in Somerset county last May. Mills was brought here for safe-keeping after a thrilling escape from a mob in Somerset county.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Services at Immanuel Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 11 and evening at 7:45, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Crowley. Sunday School at 3 P. M.

—Mr. Maulin, of the Gamewell Fire and Police Alarm System, arrived in the city yesterday to install the police telephone system, which was recently authorized by the City Council.

—L. Clayton Grant, Esq., was high man at the regular weekly shoot of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon, breaking 91 out of 100 clay pigeons. Mr. Walter Huff, a representative of the DuPont Powder Co., broke 95 out of 100.

—The Streets and Wharves Department of the city is preparing to resume the work of laying sidewalks, and Councilman P. Q. Moore, in charge of the department, has advertised for bids for 5,000 square yards of granolithic paving. The bids will be opened October 22nd and work will begin soon thereafter.

—Justice J. C. King, one of the leading magistrates of the county, was busy yesterday afternoon removing to his new office, No. 204 Princess street, which has just been vacated by the A. W. Pate Company, which will occupy the building on the cornerly formerly occupied by Mr. M. H. Kelly. Mr. King is well versed in the law and is one of the most capable magistrates in the county.

—Judge Frank Carter, who is presiding over Superior Court here, yesterday received through the mails a badge bearing the printed inscription, "I'm the Guy that Licked the Liquor." The badge was turned over to Sheriff Cowan with the direction that he wear it as he (Judge Carter) could hardly do so. However, it is a well-known fact that Judge Carter is the man who put the "blind tigers" practically out of business in Wilmington.

—Before Geo. H. Howell, Esq., referee in bankruptcy, in the United States court room Thursday, there was a hearing in the matter of the bankruptcy of H. J. Weeks & Bros., of Elizabethtown, who filed a petition in bankruptcy some weeks ago. Scull & McNorton, of this city, represented the creditors of the company, while J. B. Clark, Esq., of Elizabethtown, appeared for the bankrupts. The hearing was continued until a later date, when examination of the bankrupts will be resumed.

Another Ed. Bosewell

While it is hardly necessary, yet it might not be amiss to mention the fact that the Ed. Bosewell, follower of carnivals, fairs, etc., and who has played a prominent part in local courts during the past few days for alleged crookedness, is not Mr. Ed. Bosewell, who holds a position in The Morning Star job office, and who is a well-known and popular young man. If it was anything to do with baseball "Eddie," as he is known about the shop, might be the man, for he is not only an enthusiastic fan, but a pitcher of no small reputation in amateur circles.

GET VERDICT FOR $80,000.

Plaintiffs in Hatters Case Awarded This Sum—Trebled.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 11.—A verdict of $80,000 and costs was awarded for the plaintiffs in the D. Lowe & Company, of Danbury, suit against members of the United Hatters' Union of North America in United States District Court. Under the Sherman anti-trust law, this award will be trebled, making the total amount $240,000.

It took the jury four hours to reach the decision, most of the time being spent in examining the expense account of the plaintiffs. The verdict is for the full amount sought.

This already famous case has been before the court for nine years, during which time it has gone to the United States Court of Appeals twice and once to the United States Supreme Court. In the first jury trial three years ago, the award for the plaintiff was $222,000. Steps were begun tonight by the defense to appeal the case again.

Suit was first brought in 1902 against 240 members of the United Hatters of North America residing in this State, and was based upon the allegations that a conspiracy existed to injure the business of the plaintiff, who is a soft hat manufacturer, because he declined to unionize his factory. During both trials evidence was presented aiming to show that labor unions had instituted a boycott against the plaintiff's business.

The American Federation of Labor stood behind the defendants and the Anti-Boycott Society of America was behind the plaintiffs, so the litigaton developed into a legal battle between these two bodies.

According to Jerome Moore, who was named receiver, the company's liabilities are about $263,000, with assets of $75,000. Arrangements are being made to reinsure the National's business.

BREAK FOLLOWS EARLY GAIN THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Early Advance In the Cotton Market On Frost Predictions Was Soon Lost and Close Was at Decline of 19 Points

New York, Oct. 11.—An early advance on frost predictions and covering for over the holiday was followed by a sharp break in today's cotton market and the close was weak at a net decline of from 12 to 19 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 3 points in sympathy with slightly lower cables than expected, but almost immediately rallied on renewed covering for over the two-day adjournment and on the Western belt forecast for frost in parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Prices sold some 5 to 6 points above the closing figures of last night on this bulge, making a rally of some 25 to 30 points from the low level of yesterday morning.

The frost predictions, however, did not appear to be bringing much fresh buying for long account, and after the close of Liverpool the demand here became active. Scattered Southern selling and realizing by some of yesterday's early buyers consequently checked the advance and the market during the afternoon became very weak and unsettled under more or less general liquidation, was prompted by a bearish view of the week-end figures and unfavorable European political advices.

December contracts broke to within two points of Thursday's low record, while January sold off to within five points of the previous low level and closed within a point or two of the bottom.

The local market will be closed tomorrow, while Liverpool and New Orleans will remain open for business as usual, and local traders attributed much of today's late liquidation to recent buyers for a reaction, who they said had been disappointed that preholiday covering did not develop on a heavier scale. Spinners' takings for the week were estimated at 209,000 bales, against 292,000 last year.

Spot, quiet, unchanged. Middling uplands, 11.00; do. gulf, 11.25. Sales, 500 bales.

Cotton futures closed weak.

DRY GOODS MARKET

New York, Oct. 11.—The dry goods market was steady but quiet for the day. Jobbers did a satisfactory repeat order business and are getting a better class of advance order trade on fine fabrics for Spring. Foreign ..... are firm.

Prices Have Sagged Under Good Weather, Big Receipts, Favorable Crop Reports and the War News From Europe.

New York, Oct. 11.—Prices have been sagging under the influence of fine weather, big receipts in Texas, favorable crop reports, war news from Europe and heavy selling. Big spot houses tried to stem the tide, but met with little success. For many weeks they were acting on the selling side, but recently they came to the conclusion that the decline had gone far enough and they bought on a big scale. But the receipts have continued very heavy and the concensus of opinion here has been bearish.

The tendency had been to increase estimates to something like 14,700,000 to 15,000,000 bales. At the same time the idea has been quite prevalent that the world's largest consumption of American cotton is not likely to be as large as that of last year, when whatever Ellison may say to the contrary, American statisticians believed it reached fully 14,500,000 bales. This year, however, the crops of India and Egypt are considered large and the belief of some is that Europe will use more Egyptian and Indian cotton than it did last year and less of American. Moreover, the warlike situation in Southeastern Europe has been a source of disquietude to not a few. In cotton, war is usually considered a bearish favor. Not a few cotton people are fearful that the outbreak of war between Montenegro and Turkey may be followed by a declaration of war by the Balkan States and that some of the larger powers of Europe may be drawn into the quarrel. This, together with fine weather at the South, enormous receipts at Texas points, an increasing movement east of the Mississippi and general selling, has certainly militated seriously against any great recovery of prices. Spinners, it is true, have bought more freely and Liverpool straddlers who made the straddle at 100 points difference or less between Liverpool and New York, have latterly been buying heavily at 123 to 127 points difference, thereby reaping handsome profits. Some of the big spot houses have been under these straddles. At times Memphis, Wall Street and other operators have bought here partly to cover shorts on the eve of the holiday on Saturday. There is also a belief in some quarters that the crop is being over-estimated and the consumption underestimated. They think that the crop is not over 13,500,000 to 14,000,000 bales and that another big world's consumption of American cotton is practically certain, as the world is in a better condition to buy cotton this season, with a spread of business prosperity on both sides of the Atlantic, than it was last season, when in spite of all drawbacks, the crop of 16,200,000 bales was handled with an ease that amazed the cotton world. Also the crop is two to three weeks late in the Eastern section of the belt and killing frost in the next fortnight in that section would do serious damage. Then, too, the short interest is large and there is a tendency to overdo the bear account.

The concensus here is bearish, however. The idea is that only temporary rallies need be expected unless killing frost comes early. Of late, however, there have been rallies due to a fear of a frost over Saturday and Sunday. Prices collapsed again on Friday afternoon.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Trade Movements Continue in Large Proportion—The Outlook.

New York, Oct. 11.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Trade movements continue to run at fairly rapid pace. Jobbers and manufacturers in most parts of the country are enjoying more business than has been known in years. Various lines report unprecedented sales and shipments in the principal centers dre being rushed in order to cope with insistent demands for deliveries. Reorders from retail dealers are of noteworthy proportion. The most significant features of the entire situation are the apparent disregard shown for political developments, the heavy consumption of all kinds of goods, the scarcity of stocks in first hands and the well sold ahead condition of textile mills, as well as steel plants, all of which create the impression that the country is reflecting the results of under production of manufactured products. Jobbers have experienced an exceptionally good degree of activity. While trade at the South is livening up a little, the trend there outside of the distinctly industrial centers is still relatively backward, for which the lateness of the cotton crop harvest is held responsible.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending October 10th were 273 against 268 last week and 212 in the like week of 1911.

War News Affected Stocks Foreign Situation Loomed Larger on The Financial Horizon and Enormous Quantities of American Stocks Sold

New York, Oct. 11.—The foreign situation loomed larger on the local financial horizon today. Overnight news from London and other European points was largely of an alarming tenor, and these advices were followed by enormous sales of American stocks in London, Paris and Berlin. The German and French capitals were contenders of demoralization and London as usual, had to bear the brunt of their heavy outpourings. Sales here for European account were estimated at 100,000, but there is authority for saying that the total liquidation was much in excess of those figures, many large blocks of stocks being taken over by American bankers in direct purchase. Pertinent to this phase of the situation, it is argued that any further selling of our securities by the foreigners must seriously affect our credits abroad, even though a prolonged conflict in the Balkans should cause extra heavy exports of our foodstuffs.

Canadian Pacific was the storm center of the market, declining eight points in Berlin, closing with half that loss in London and closing here with a net loss of 10 3-4 points.

Local traders evinced no disposition to cover contracts, basing their operations on the belief that tomorrow's holiday here adds to the critical state of the market conditions abroad.

Private discounts were above the bank rate in London and private cables to international bankers predict an early advance to 5 per cent by that institution next week.

Bonds were weak in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value aggregated $2,150,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today 741,900 shares.

MARKETING COTTON.

Crop is Short But is Being Sold—Social Item.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., Oct. 11.—Cotton is being gathered rapidly and sold just as rapidly. One buyer to date has bought 14,000 bales while last year on the same date he had handled but 7,200 bales. This does not mean that there is a larger crop for such is not the case, for the crop is at least 30 per cent. short. It only means that what is here is open and is being harvested. Some fields now, the 11th of October, are bare and no bolls to open.

The Merry-Go-Rounds entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. B. Ashley in honor of the two members of their number who are to be brides of the month, Miss Virginia Everett, who on Tuesday, the 16th, is to become the bride of Mr. Harry Schmoele, of Portsmouth, and Miss Margaret Baldwin, whose marriage to E. T. Carrowan will be celebrated the 23rd inst.

Pineville, Ky., Oct. 8.—As a result of an investigation of the hookworm disease in this section it was announced here yesterday that 1,750 cases had been discovered in Bell county alone, in the last 28 days. The investigation was conducted by Wickliffe Rose, executive secretary of the Rockefeller commission, for the eradication of hookworm, in conjunction with an officer of the State board of health. All cases discovered are under treatment.

ment—I challenge you to disprove it", continued the nominee, "is a theory of government through a board of trustees, through a selected number of big business men of the country, who know a lot that you do not know and who take it for granted that your ignorance would wreck the prosperity of the United States and the ambition of Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt is to be elected President of the board of trustees. I have been president of the board of trustees, and do not care to have another on my hands. I want to be President of the people of the United States. There was many a time when I was president of the board of trustees of a university when the undergraduates knew more than the trustees did; and it has been a symbol in my thought ever since that if I could have handled the people who constituted Princeton University I could have carried it forward much faster than I could under a majority of the board of trustees."

The Governor today referred to the late Mark Hanna as the man who stood for "the concentration of economic control" at the same time that he stood for "the concentration of political control of the United States."

The Governor said Senator Aldrich was "Mr. Hanna's successor in exercising this kind of control."

Governor Wilson was given a great ovation when introduced by Mayor Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland.

San Francisco that night. He checked out at 7 o'clock.

At 1 o'clock the next morning the explosion occurred. According to telegrams produced by the government, McNamara was 200 miles away, en route to Salt Lake City, where, it is charged, he was kept in hiding by J. E. Munsey, a former business agent of the Iron Workers Union, who telegraphed on to Indianapolis "Patient out of danger."

Henry Dobberahm identified a photograph of James B. McNamara as having been the "F. Sullivan", who registered at a Chicago hotel at about the time an attempt was made to blow up a plant in South Chicago, in February, 1911. Hotel clerks from Toledo Pittsburg, Boston, Cincinnati and other cities testified as to Ortie E. McManigal's visit to those places at times when he was a member of the "dynamiting crew."

FOR GREAT NAVAL REVIEW.

Flower of U. S. Navy Now Lies at Anchor in the Hudson.

New York, Oct. 11.—The flower of the United States Navy lies at anchor on the Hudson river tonight, an armada whose like has never been assembled in the Western World before. For 15 miles—from the armored cruiser Tennessee off 30th street, to the Ajax last of the fuel ships, far north of Spuyten Duyvil Creek—it stretches in a double line.

Simultaneously with the mobilization here there will be a mobilization at Manila of available warships of the Asiatic fleet. Thirty vessels of the fleet are now in Philippine or Chinese waters and from them Rear Admiral Nicholson has selected those which will participate. Most of the fleet is composed of cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers, submarines and colliers. Thus, practically the entire American navy will take part in double mobilizations, half way round the world apart. Like that in New York, the mobilization at Manila will last from October 12th to 15th.

For more than a week past the ships have been steaming into New York harbor, but tomorrow marks the official beginning of the mobilization arranged by the Navy Department, and calls for the full complement of vessels to be in their positions. The stragglers arrived tonight. Perhaps never again will such an aggregation of sea fighters be assembled. Some naval authorities predict that the limit of big battleships construction is fast being reached. A few years hence may find the navies of the world relying on smaller ships in greater numbers.

One hundred and twenty-seven ships of war of all classes, with a total displacement of 741,590 tons, have been picked by the Navy Department for this mobilization. Officers and crews total approximately 28,000 persons. Thirty-two first class battleships fringe the Manhattan shore from West 49th street to Fort Washington. These, the backbone of the Navy, vary in size from the super-dreadnaughts Arkansas and Wyoming, twins, of 26,000 tons displacement each, to the Indiana and Massachusetts, babies of the battleship fleet, with 10,000-odd tons each. Behind them, in the current of the river and hugging the New Jersey shore, is a double line of torpedo boats, destroyers, armored cruisers, scout cruisers and, at the northern tip of the jagged line, a fleet of naval militia craft. Submarines, to a half a score, and their tenders, are tied up to their docks at the foot of West 133rd street.

ANOTHER JURY SECURED.

Six Have Now Been Accepted in Grabow Murder Trial.

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 11.—One additional juror was secured today out of the special panel of 100 talesmen who appeared in court this morning for prospective service in the Grabow murder trial.

J. H. Martin, aged 50, a farmer, was the juror selected. Six men have been accepted since the opening of the trial Monday.

Another special panel of 65 was summoned to appear in court tomorrow. Twenty-five peremptory challenges have been made by the prosecution and 20 by the defense. A total of 340 talesmen have been examined.

to tell the truth and tell all you know."

The defense today subpoenaed the witness' brother.

Jack Rose, the State's most important witness, largely upon whose testimony before the grand jury, the indictment was based, was called to the stand, the last witness of the day, but did not testify. Justice Goff adjourned court when he was informed by counsel that it would take at least five hours to complete his examination.

Thomas Ryan, a chauffeur and an eye witness to the murder of Herman Rosenthal, refused, when called to the stand, by the prosecution at the trial of Police Lieut. Charles Becker today to identify any of the fur gunmen involved in the shooting. They were lined up before him, but the witness declined to swear that he had seen any one of them fire a shot. He even repudiated a story he is alleged to have previously told Assistant District Attorney Moss. Justice Goff was unable to jog the witness' memory.

Coupe Returns to Testify.

London, Oct. 11.—Thomas Coupe, who saw Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, shot down and killed by gunmen in New York City, July 16th last, will sail for New York tomorrow on the steamer Mauretania to testify at the trial of former Police Lieut. Charles Becker. He will be accompanied by William DeFord, an assistant district attorney of New York county. Coupe said he felt it was his duty to return and testify at the Becker trial.

THREATEN GENERAL STRIKE

Trainmen Serve Ultimatum On Georgia Railroad—Troops Called Out

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 11.—An ultimatum was served today on all the railroads entering Atlanta, declaring a general strike of trainmen and conductors will be called unless the roads cease at once aiding the Georgia Railroad and the Atlanta Terminal Company in moving freight. The action was the result of two meetings here today of chairmen of the trainmen and conductors for the purpose of investigating alleged violations of the "neutrality agreement" existing between the unions and the various railroads.

Settlement of the Georgia Railroad strike, it is said, depends only on the action to be taken by the terminal company in regard to the reinstatement of the 46 men who struck in sympathy with the Georgia Railroad trainmen and conductors. C. A. Wickersham, president of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad and chairmen of the Terminal board, who has been in conference today with Charles P. Neill, the government mediator, stated late today that none of the new men will be discharged to make places for those who went on strike.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 11.—Four more companies of troops were ordered out today by Governor Brown to preserve order in the event of a general strike if union men being declared in connection with the street railway strike which has been on here for three weeks. The action was taken at the request of Mayor Barrett today after 400 members of the carpenters, sheet metal workers and painters unions went on strike. If the strike becomes general it is estimated more than 2,500 men will quit their tools.

Tonight all local military companies were assembled at the armory, including a troop of cavalry and machine gun squad. Colonel O'Leary and a company from Waynesboro arrived about 8 o'clock and were immediately assigned quarters.

The situation was rendered more tense this afternoon when a strike-breaking motorman named Clifton, exchanged shots with a deputy sheriff. Clifton was arrested and placed in jail.

STOLE MARCH ON T. R.

Taft Man Named Roosevelt Watchers In New York

Washington, October 11.—Samuel Aranowitz, of New York, testified before the Clapp committee today that Samuel S. Koenig, the Taft leader, actually had named most of the Roosevelt poll watchers in the primary elections.

"I was supposed to be the Roosevelt leader in my district," he said, "and Mr. Koenig suggested several names for the position of watcher. The election was controlled by Mr. Koenig's men."

Aranowitz said lieutenants of Koenig had induced him to part with the badges and certificates he had gotten from the Roosevelt headquarters. Edward Stotesbury, of Philadelphia, a banker, testified that he collected $168,795.50 in Pennsylvania in 1904 for the Republican National campaign and in 1908 he garnered $101,957.67. Among the 1904 contributors appear the names of several steel companies doing business in Pennsylvania.

The contributions ranged from $5,000 to $12,775.

SPECULATORS ARRESTED.

World's Series Dealers on Small Scale Are Fined $10.

New York, Oct. 11.—A dozen men charged with ticket speculation, arrested outside the Polo Grounds today, were fined $10 apiece in police court. The operations of the men apparently were of a limited nature, as most of the arrests were made comparatively early in the day and none of the prisoners was found to have more than a half dozen tickets. The large number of seats—30,000 in all, available at the gates, had left the speculators little opportunity to place a successful trade.

STEAMER ABANDONED

The Dover Is Left on Beach of Florida Coast

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 11.—The American steamer Dover, which went on the beach a few nights ago while attempting to make St. John's bar, has been abandoned. C. Diamond, general manager of the Texas Steamship Company, owners of the Dover, made this announcement late today. The tug Rescue, which has been standing by the stranded ship, proceeded today for New York.
